

In my senior thesis, I create a short animation about my volunteer experience to remember the most crucial moment in my life.
For the first time, I'm praised and recognized for creating something that I truly love.

I end up becoming a pretty famous freelancer who travels around to collect people's stories.
Whenever someone asks me "How to be a confident and creative artist like you?" I reply: "Neither confidence nor creativity are created but found."

The End.

Being an animator is not my dream anymore. However, I don't know what I want to do next so I listen to what my parents said. I transfer to a good university to study engineering. I don't really like what I am studying, but I am also not bad at it.

guess this was what I meant to be.
