

DREAMER

START

Hi! I'm Taylor. I'm an elementary school student.
I like the color blue and like watching anime.

My parents own a food truck and work until really late everyday. They work hard to provide everything I need.

They have high expectations from me and hope I can become an engineer when I grow up so I can find a stable job. That sounds so boring to me!

Can you guess what I want to do when I grow up?
